SMALL CHANGE.

G. W. Martin, Esq., is having a neat cottage built on College street, which he will occupy for a residence.

The Association Bulletin, published by the Young Men's Christian Association at Nashville, has reached us. It is a small sheet, but filled with good reading.

Milan needs a manufacturing boom badly. We have the best timber all around us and the best railroad connections in the state. "There's millions in it."

Millie McCoy, Callie Glenson, Mack McCoy and John Welsh, all colored, for disturbing the peace last Monday night, were taxed $12.50 for city purposes.

A world of brick is being hauled to the "burnt district," preparatory to building several handsome new business houses. The work will begin at an early day.

A burning chimney at the Milan House caused a fire alarm last Saturday night. Watch your chimneys this windy weather and keep your property insured.

There is probably more money invested to the square yard in Oakwood Cemetery than in any part of town. Yet the place is worse neglected than almost any back yard in Milan. What a pity!

Number Two of "Among the Temples," by our correspondent in China, appears this week, and will be followed in our next by Number Three. Read them. They are interesting and instructive.

Mr. R. H. Goodman is again before the people as a candidate for County Trustee. It will be remembered that he made a fine race at the last election against Mr. Long. He is one of the best citizens in our county, is thoroughly honest and competent. See his announcement.

We came very near having a marriage notice or two to announce this week; but we heard that the parties forgot to pay the preacher for his services, and we consequently think they would rather not have their names announced. If you want a real nice notice when you get married, pay the preacher and a subscriber for the Exchange.

We hear of a number of people who contemplate leaving Milan in consequence of the voting down of the school tax last Monday. Property owners will find that they will lose more in rents than their tax would have amounted to, and merchants would lose more in sales. There is such a thing as a penny wise and pound foolish policy.

A "greeny" from Camden went in to one of the railroad offices here last Monday morning and applied for work. One of the boys asked him if he could write. He said he could not, but would get some one to do it for him. Then to test his mathematical capacity, they started him to counting the cross ties between the telegraph poles on the Central road. The last we saw of him he was carefully at the work, stopping at each pole to mark the number.

We are in receipt of a copy of Hon. A. A. Freeman's able argument before the supreme Court of the District of Columbia in the case of M. A. Daphin vs. D. M. Key, Postmaster General. Col. Freeman is Assistant Attorney General for the P. O. Department, it will be remembered, and a very able officer, too. We wish him and Gen. Key success in their efforts to break up the numberless swindling concerns who are daily taking advantage of the mails to ply their nefarious business.

Religious Notes.

Next Sunday morning the Rev. M. M. Taylor will preach a sermon from the following text: "For your Father in heaven knoweth the things ye have need of before ye ask him." Matt. vi. 8. The social and religious needs of Milan will be especially touched on.

The regular annual collection for home missions will be taken up at the Baptist church next Sunday, when it is hoped a large congregation will be in attendance. The day is set apart for that purpose all over the country.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Our wide-awake fellow townsman, Mr. George Cade, renews his card in the Exchange. By his indomitable energy and iron determination he has built up a splendid business and made a competency. His cotton compress is of vast service to Milan and is an enterprise that is remunerative. Mr. Cade informs us he will soon commence running his saw and planing mills when the heavy demands for material in building up the town can be supplied. If Milan had a few more men like our pushing friend Cade we would soon assume the proportions of a city and grow in wealth.

The card of the City Drug Store continues on its round for the present year. Mr. W. H. Coley, who superintends this popular house has a splendid stock of pure drugs, recently purchased, also a fine stock of fancy goods and toilet articles, as well as the best brands of tobacco and cigars, and the finest liquors for medicinal purposes. His prices he proposes to keep at rock bottom, and hereby invites his friends and the public to call before making their purchases.

It affords us great pleasure to renew the card of Dr. M. D. L. Jordan for the year 1880. The Doctor has a superb stock of toilet goods, stationery, cigars and tobacco and a fresh and choice supply of drugs and all the standard patent medicines. Prescriptions accurately compounded at any hour by Mr. McClaran, a competent pharmacist. The doctor enjoys a splendid drug trade and guarantees as low prices as can be had anywhere.

Do you want a first-class shirt cheaper than any other manufactured? If so, order the celebrated Keep's Shirt—the best. It is elegantly made from the famous Wamutta muslin and best Irish linen, and is warranted of superior quality at bottom figures. Gilbert Bros., St. Louis, Mo., are general agents and manufacturers of Keep's Shirts and we recommend our readers to order from them.

W. L. Anderson—It will be seen from our card in this issue that W. L. Anderson has purchased the stock of his brother, J. T. Anderson, and will continue in the same line of business. He is a skilled mechanic, having worked in several of the large cities, and will be a valuable man in our community. We most cheerfully recommend Mr. Anderson as an active and reliable business man.

New Bank—The opening of this institution in our midst and the "big run" it is having is really wonderful. A description of the New Bank will be found in this issue and every body and "his sisters, his cousins and his aunts" should read it.

PERSONAL.

Robert Drury, formerly of Milan, was married on the 10th inst. to Miss Sallie Ragsdale, of Fayette county.

Murry McMillin, the popular and lightning representative of Menken Bros., was here taking orders yesterday.

Mr. B. H. Wear, the talented editor of the Bellville Enterprise, called on us last Friday, en route to Mississippi.

Hon. B. A. Enloe, the genial and talented editor of the Jackson Tribune & Sun, was here yesterday in the interest of his paper.

Maj. Sangston, the gentlemanly and genial agent for the U. S. Quartermaster's Department, spent a day or two here last week.

Hon. A. A. Freeman, of the Post Office Department, Washington, honored our sanctum with a visit yesterday, and gave us an hour's pleasure listening to him on various subjects.

Mr. John Burns, the brakeman who mashed his foot severely here not long since, and who remained over several months to be cured, left for Cincinnati yesterday on a visit to his relatives.

Murfreesboro News: Prof. B. F. Hooker, Principal of a flourishing school in Milan, Tenn., paid a flying visit to Murfreesboro, last week, where he was cordially greeted by an army of friends.

Col. J. B. Driscoll is announced this week as a candidate for sheriff, and he is going to be about the hardest man of the lot to beat. He made a splendid race at the last election and knows the ropes. He is fully competent and will make an excellent officer.

Quarterly Meetings.

Paris District, 2nd Round.—Trevant circuit, March 20 and 21; Salem cir., March 27 and 28; Huntingdon cir., April 3 and 4; McKenzie cir., April 10 and 11; Murray cir., April 17 and 18; Paris Landing cir., April 24 and 25; Spring Hill cir., May 1 and 2; Paris sta., May 8 and 9; McKenzie sta., May 15 and 16; Milan sta., May 22 and 23; Big Sandy cir., May 29 and 30; Paris cir., June 5 and 6; Morgan's Creek cir., June 12 and 13; Camden cir., June 19 and 20.

B. A. HAYS, P. E.

POUL MURDER.

A Man's Brains Beat Out of his Skull on Return from Church.

Intelligence of a brutal and deliberate murder, comes to us from Humboldt. Gabe Gillespie, col., while returning home from a church meeting on Monday night, was set upon by two negroes, knocked down and his brains literally beat out. The scene of the tragedy was near Gillespie's house, whose wife hearing the blows, rushed out and discovered the perpetrators of the foul deed retreating from the spot. A colored preacher, who had been attracted by the cries of the wounded man was making his way in that direction, when he met Frank and Ed White, brothers, running rapidly past him; when he hailed them asking "where they were going," one of them replied, "we are going where that man is hollering." The preacher remarked that "they are going the wrong way," but they didn't think so. Gillespie lived only a few moments—an examination showing his head was beat into a jelly with some metal implement. As soon as the news of the murder reached the ears of an officer he proceeded at once to arrest Frank and Ed White, in whose house he found two bloody hatchets and blood on the coat of Frank White. The two were incarcerated and the trial was set for hearing on Tuesday.

COUNTY ITEMS.

The Ryans are to be in Trenton tonight.

The Herald wants a new court house at Trenton. The 'Squires will decide that question.

We warn our country friends not to drive through the upper end of Main street. The holes there make it dangerous.

Kenton has shipped two thousand and fifty-three bales of cotton since September first, an increase of five hundred bales over any previous year.

From the Trenton Herald.
We suggest that the various Sunday schools of Gibson county organize an institute, to be held quarterly, for the discussion of the best means to advance the cause.

The following marriage licenses have been issued from the county clerk's office since our last report: Jim Mayfield and Rachel Buchanan, P. L. Greer and F. E. Flowers, W. J. McCartney and J. A. Swindell, Jack Vance and Tempe Williams.

From the Trenton Mirror.
We regret to learn that our esteemed friend Mr. Robert E. Kaines is confined to his bed quite sick, but we hope not seriously ill.

Capt. Skinner, an old and well known citizen of this county, and an honest man, died suddenly in the cotton field in the northern portion of the county a few days ago. Peace to his ashes.

The bridge out on Eaton levee across cane creek caved in this week just after a wagon had passed over it. The recent high water had undermined it. There are very few good bridges in the county. The credit of the county is at too low figure to admit of first class work being done when it is paid with depreciated warrants. There is no adequate system of inspection of public works. Cannot a new and better system be adopted?

From the Humboldt Argus.
Last Thursday night several ruffians took to the town, and destroyed or carried off every thing they could lay hands on. Among the many depredations they committed was the smashing of Mr. Ed Fox's street lamp, the frame of which was found on the street the morning following. The next time we hear of such an occurrence we will present the parties names to the public.

DYER.

Feb. 24, 1880.

Our town is still full of life and activity, judging from the new firms that have been established recently, both financially and matrimonially. Some sickness has prevailed in this immediate vicinity, and in a few instances has proved fatal. We learn this morning of the death of Mrs. Marion Orr, near this place. We deeply sympathize with the bereaved family and friends.

Farmers are on the outlook for another crop.

Our little city has been honored with the presence of several beautiful young ladies—Miss Laura Dobbin; of Columbia, Tenn., Miss Mollie George, of Union City, and Miss Alice McKelvey, of Kenton. Many a youthful heart will be saddened when they return home.

With many good wishes to your interesting paper we bid you good-bye.

THE SCHOOL ELECTION.

On account of the lukewarmness of the friends of the measure, a very light vote was polled here last Monday on the question whether or not to vote a tax for school purposes. We give the result below:

First Ward—For, 19; against, 14.
Second Ward—For, 21; against, 16.

Third Ward—For, 13; against, 3.
Total—For, 53; against, 65; majority against, 12.

CARROLL ITEMS.

Mrs. McKenzie, mother of the Union Express Agent here, died at her home in McKenzie on the 14th inst. She was a noble, good woman, and by her death leaves a vacancy in the McKenzie society that cannot be filled.

A party of drunken rowdies from Glenson went to a negro church festival in McKenzie the other night and behaved in a most disgraceful manner, waving pistols, cursing the men and insulting the women. And this occurred in the good republican county of Carroll, too—the negro's Paradise. When the northern papers begin to use this as party capital we hope they will not forget that fact. The scoundrels who committed the outrage should be punished to the full extent of the law.

From the Huntington Republican.

By the recent high water the county has sustained a very heavy loss in the way of bridges and levees. On Sandy River, at Green's old turnpike, three bridges were washed away and the levees considerably damaged. At Fluelen's one bridge was washed away and the levees also considerably damaged. All of the above were sough bridges, those across the main channel being secure. On Reedy Creek the bridge near Kennon's was washed away, and also at Butler's. On the Jackson road the bridge is badly damaged. On Rutherford's Fork of Obion, all of the bridges were washed away from Terry's to Gibson county line. At Shady Grove the levees are supposed to be damaged to the amount of about one thousand dollars, mostly on the Gibson county side. There are perhaps other bridges and levees badly damaged of which we have not been advised, and the cost to the county to put them in proper condition again will be considerable. The different creeks were higher than ever known before.

RAILWAY RACKET.

The Louisville and Nashville railroad earnings during the first week in February were $131,062, comparative increase over last year $22,549.

Seventy-five hundred men employed in grading the Cincinnati Southern grounds at Chattanooga at 80 cents a day, struck for $1. The employees say they will make no concessions.

President Cole, of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad, has sold all the old iron on that road at a handsome advance above the price he paid for his steel rails. Construction trains are now engaged in getting up all the old iron.

The annual report of the directors of the Illinois Central shows that the total receipts during 1879 were $7,234,464; total expenditures, $3,026,700; leaving net earnings from operation of the road, $4,207,763. The increase of net traffic over preceding year is $181,591. There is now to be carried forward to the credit of the income account $2,072,839. The directors see hopeful prospects for the coming year.

Winchester Home Journal: The Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railroad Company paid to our county Trustee last week the sum of ten thousand, eleven dollars and forty cents, ($10,011 40) past taxes on the portion of their road in Franklin county and the Winchester & Alabama branch. About $7,000 of the amount was in greenbacks, and the balance in county warrants. This is the largest amount ever paid at one time into our County Treasury, and will nearly pay our county out of debt.

A Memphis dispatch says: It is believed here that Jay Gould and Col. Thomas A. Scott, who now owns the Texas Pacific railroad, have obtained possession of the Memphis & Little Rock railroad and Iron Mountain railroad, securing for this line an unbroken line under one management practically from Fort Worth, Texas, to New York, via St. Louis. The Louisville & Nashville and Memphis & Charleston companies have been endeavoring for some weeks to get possession of these lines, but failed.

NEW BANK.

There is nothing like variety and competition works wonders. Sometimes the latter is good for the people, provided they are discreet. The name of this new concern shall be the People's Bank, and myself Cashier, Teller and Book Keeper, and also President. I propose when I open out to let the people have all the money they may need without mortgage or security, will also sell bills of exchange on London, Liverpool, Havre and Milan, Italy, without premium, and will sell exchange on New York and other eastern cities at a discount. Now, to proceed at an early day with this mammoth concern, I have necessarily to dispose of my varied stock of merchandise, and, in order to do this, and to have plenty money to operate on I have marked every thing up. Staples at an advance. Boots and Shoes at an advance. Clothing at an advance. Hats, staves, advance. Shirts, Drawers, Gloves, Collars, Neck Ties, and gentlemen's accoutrements generally at an advance. I know I can please you all. I deem it unnecessary to try to catalogue all I have. The people of Milan and vicinity know what I carry. I carry all kinds of stationery. As the people all buy school books from me, I have decided not to advance them just now. Remember I have all kinds of them. I also carry a complete line of the leading fiction of the day, termed the Franklin Square Library and the Seaside Library. I can't say that the morals of the people are to be bettered by reading these books, but as they sell for 10 to 20 cents per volume complete, they nearly all read them and tell me there's millions in 'em. I can show you wonders in my store, so much so that you would not think of any advance. Those excellent Sewing Machines I have sold all your neighbors are working wondrously; they told the people they were "bogs." The machines have proved first class, and most of the agents have concluded they could do better somewhere else, or have suicided. I really don't know which. The Howe, American, Wheeler & Wilson and a host of other machines will do good work, but would run lighter if they only had a steam engine attached to them. Come buy your wives, mothers and sweethearts one of my sweet light running singers. She will sing sweetly in the meantime, and you will all be happy. Warranted for three years. I haven't advanced them yet. Now remember if I get my bank into operation you get the advantage of all my advance on goods, and really, I am so anxious to do a banking business, and want to get my money together so bad that I may sell my goods cheaper than I think I will. I may fall considerably on lots of things, but I won't let you have my goods on a credit; it takes cash to run a bank if the people are well accommodated.

TOM HARRISON.

P. S.—I had lots of orders out before goods got so high, and they continue to come in. I will divide the advance on them. Got a big lot of oil matting, just in, 4 to 10 1/2 wide; these are powerful pretty goods and serviceable too. The Ladies can find some wonderful pretty goods in my store, and I like to have them to come around and see. I will show you a great many things you will be surprised at. I can lay all side shows and circuses in the shade and don't charge one cent for the exhibition. Free to all. Bring the children. Ministers of all denominations can find solid comfort to all who have anything to sell. "Don't forget your pocket book, please." Some one might carry it off through mistake. Be careful at my store, not to buy what you do not want; that would be wasteful and consequently wicked.

TOM HARRISON.

P. S.—Since writing the above, I have received money per express and money by mail and my customers seem to appreciate the need of another Bank. Don't get excited. I will not bank any before fall; neither do I think of advancing my goods any more for the present. Received yesterday a beautiful line of Calicoes, Domestic and Ticking; they are really tons at so small an advance. All who favor the new bank can converse personally with me at my store from 6 o'clock a. m. to 9 1/2 o'clock p. m. until further notice.

TOM HARRISON.

P. S. This is to be called the People's Bank, and don't you forget it.

TOM HARRISON.

P. S.—Not Wisely, Nancy: Good-bye Sweetheart; Red as a Rose is She; Cometh Up as a Flower; Not Wisely but too Well, all by the celebrated authoress, Rhoda Broughton. A full line of Wm. Black's celebrated works, Life of John A. Murrel the Great Western Land Pirate, and lots of other reading matter in cheap form, 10 to 25 cts a volume complete. Just received by TOM HARRISON.
